An Interesting Letter From Manila.

BY ONE OF THE MARINES.

U. S. S. "Raleigh,"
Manila, Philippine Islands,
May 4, 1898.

Dear friend:

I'll now show you how we knocked the stuffing out of the dagoes. On Saturday, April 30, our fleet arrived on the coast of the island of Luzon. We steamed slowly all day and continued making every preparation for fighting that had not previously been made. The ships strewed the sea with wood-work and all stuff that would be likely to take fire in battle. All our mess chests, tables and benches and even costly furniture, were thrown overboard. In the afternoon the "McCullough" (revenue cutter) picked up two small sailing vessels, but let them go again. Later the boys donned their war suits, prepared for the occasion, by painting them the same "invisible gray" as the ships were painted. When darkness spread over the seas we all lounged about the spar deck and sang:

"Hoist up the flag, long may it wave,
God bless America, home of the brave."
Then the bands on the "Olympia" and the "Baltimore" played our national airs and war songs and the voices of 2000 sailors rang out in three rousing cheers such as were never heard on the waters of the Philippines before.

About ten o'clock we began to think more seriously of our duties and became more silent, for we were soon to force the entrance past the forts into the bay of Manila. Finally the officer on the fore-castle gave the order: "Now, boys go to your stations and for God's sake keep cool."

The order was promptly obeyed and every gun was loaded and manned. Our ships carried only one light each, and that could be seen only from astern, and will you believe it? the first and strongest fort did not see us until we were well past it. They then signalled to the next fort by firing rockets but half our ships had passed that before they were discovered when, crack! went a gun and a wicked shell hissed across our quarter deck—it was just thirteen minutes past midnight on Sunday morning May the first—when the "Raleigh" responded with a five-inch rifle. The "Concord" followed suit with a six-inch and the "Boston" sent her compliments along with a sweeping eight-inch, which must have been effective, for the fort fired no more. Then some of the boys brought out a violin and two guitars (below deck, of course) and some played while others danced. I am sure such a scene was never witnessed on such an occasion before—sailors in fighting costumes, stripped to the waist, with huge revolvers and cutlasses dangling at their sides, dancing and making merry while the enemy's guns doubtless were trained on our ship.

It was about twenty miles up the bay to Manila, where the Spanish fleet lay, so we steamed slowly up. When day broke that morning our war colors were unfurled from each top-mast and main or mizzen gaff peak. I know that you will know of the "Battle of Manila" long before you read my letter, but pardon me, please—I like to tell it myself. With praises to the glory and power of the American nation, we have met the enemy and they are ours. The Spanish fleet took shelter under cover of the guns of a strong fort near the navy yard. The "Olympia" and the cruiser "Baltimore" led the fleet. The guns of the fort were the first to fire on us and when they did the American eagle screamed with rage but never lost a feather. We opened on them with our eight-inch rifles at long range, but gradually drew nearer, as we tested the range of their guns. Our ships steamed in a sort of circle and poured repeated broadside charges at the Spanish fleet. Under the smoke of our guns a torpedo boat sneaked up and fired a deadly torpedo at our pet the "Hugh McCullough"—but she was too quick for the torpedo and got out of its way. Did the torpedo boat get away? I should think not: one of the "Raleigh's" five-inch rifles knocked it so high that we expect to find pieces of it in Hong-Kong when we get back there.

A shell from the "Olympia" carried away the bridge of the "Spanish flag-ship," which was occupied by their Admiral and Captain. I don't just know what became of the two gentlemen. Our batteries roared for two hours. Two Spanish vessels went down and we withdrew to a safe distance where we could eat breakfast without having to dodge shot at the same time. We didn't know then what great damage we had done. Our commander-in-chief called the captain to his ship to hold a council of war. Look! look! cried a tar; we looked and saw the Spanish flagship on fire. It was a grand sight to us to see the black smoke mingled with red flames, leaping up to the yards, devouring our enemy. We all stood on the fore-castle beneath a torrid sun, which was boiling the pitch in the deck. What is that bright color in the smoke? It is young Alfonso's royal colors. The flames leap higher, higher, they have caught the flag on high and the American tars could be heard to cheer from ship to ship all over the fleet.

At 11 we made a second attack. The dagoes fought hard, but we fought harder. All the boats were shot off from the "Boston." The "Baltimore" lost two boats and got several shots in her side, one of which crashed through her berth deck wounding six men. An officer named Rodman was in command of the six-inch rifle on the fore-castle and frequently fired it himself. He placed a shot so nicely that it sent a gun of the fort bounding in air, then cried out to the captain on the bridge, "How was that, Captain?" and the "Old man" waving his cap replied, "Good boy, Rodman—God bless you—give them another." By this time nearly all the Spanish fleet were in a sinking condition, most of them in flames. The "Baltimore" Olympia" and "Boston" steamed in face of the fort and played their eight-inch batteries with such effect that there could be seen only a mass of flying stones, bricks and dismantled guns. Up went the white flag; the navy yard lay in ruins; the victory was won. Of the Spanish fleet not one floated. The "Petrel" steamed in and got two tugs and three steam launches all that was left. Now you want to know what injury the "Raleigh" received. One shot passed through our whaleboat and fragments of shell fell on deck, we picked them up for curios. Next day the "Baltimore" and "Raleigh" steamed down to the entrance of the bay and asked the surrender of the fort.

"Surrender for what?" asked the commander of the fort.

"Because," explained the interpreter, "the navy yard is in ruins and there is not a Spanish ship afloat."

He came aboard the "Raleigh" and terms of surrender were made. The old gentleman, for such he seemed, was wounded to the heart; he was to be pitied.

"What! surrender without firing a shot?" he asked.

"Yes," answered the captain, "at this moment our guns are trained on the city of Manila and if a shot is fired here the city will be a waste of ashes in two hours."

He gave in. This ended the fight and ends also my letter. I hope you'll have as good a time as we had if you go to the front and wish you good luck and hope you'll remember your old shipmate.

AN UNWILLING RECRUIT.

The Departure of a Young Sicilian Who Had Been Drafted Into the Army.

More than one American family of today can remember the time when in the season of the country's need the young son of the house went to the war, but probably not one American family can quite enter into the spirit of the scene described by Mr. William Agnew Paton in his "Pictorial Sicily."

Near La Chiesa del Carmine Mr. Paton saw a young recruit, newly drafted, taking leave of his family. He was very young, hardly of an age to fit him for military service. This may perhaps serve as an excuse for the fact that, in spite of his new uniform, he stood in the middle of the road crying like a baby as he poured his tale of woe into the ears of his younger brothers and sisters and possibly his cousins also, for some 10 or 12 children were grouped round him, standing or kneeling upon the pavement, all of them weeping bitterly.

The boy's mother, her eyes red and her hair disheveled, was delivering to a dozen or more of her friends a tirade against the injustice of compelling her boy to serve in the royal army. Opinion seemed unanimous, for all gave their unequivocal and vociferous assent to her propositions and complaints.

The lane was full of women. There were few men, only those being there who were too old to work. The windows and doors of the houses were occupied by other women, all gesticulating and all very angry.

When the sergeant, a good natured fellow, who had permitted his charge to halt on his way to the railway station, motioned the young recruit to come away, the scene in the lane beggared description. The children gave loud voice to their sorrow; the mother frantically kissed her boy's face, hands and clothing, and even by throwing herself upon the ground managed to kiss his feet.

Then, rising to her knees, she clinched both hands, and, lifting them toward heaven, seemed to be calling down vengeance on the sergeant and all set in authority over him who had part or lot in the taking of her son from her.

When last seen, she was being led into her house by her sympathizing friends, while the children, crying and gesticulating, followed the young recruit to the corner of the street, where they shrieked a last farewell to the newly made soldier who trudged beside the sergeant weeping bitterly.

GOOD COOKERY

GOOD COOKERY,
Dorchester, Mass.

Dear Kate:

You asked me one day for some recipes for cooking Italian pastes and other things that would do as substitutes for meats in the heated season. I was about to prepare something when I received a letter from my French correspondent that will just fill the bill. Try his suggestions for they are practical.

Yours culinarily,
COMFORT JONES,
Doctor of Cookery.

My Dear Doctor:

It is too hot today to think of cooking stews, ragouts and other meat entrees, so I am going to write something about Italian pastes, as they are known among chefs. I mean Vermicelli, Macaroni and Spaghetti. These are all birds of the same feather, the distinctive difference being in the size, form and shape of the manufactured articles.

The Vermicelli, the smallest in diameter of the three, comes as a delightful addition to many soups. In all cases it should be cooked before being added to the soup. To have it at its best, place it in boiling water, well salted, and boil constantly until done, say 10 or 12 minutes. Then drain and add to the soup just before serving. The Italian always adds grated cheese to the soup when in the plate before him, and if you are fond of cheese try his idea and you will declare it good.

Spaghetti, to my mind the best of the pastes for general use, when well cooked will furnish you an excellent, desirable entree. It should be cooked as indicated above for Vermicelli, but giving it about 20 minutes' boiling.

The whole secret of the dish is in the preparation of the sauce. This can be made a very complex and mysterious concoction or quite simple. Let me try to lead you to a middle ground that I think will prove the best at first. Later we will make the sauce more elaborate, if desired. The Italian throws in a bit of this and a sprinkling of that in an apparently careless way, but we will try and be more precise.

Take a half can tomatoes as a basis for your sauce. In a stewpan place a piece of butter the size of a pullet's egg, and in it brown a small piece of onion and just a bit of garlic clove; put in the tomatoes and let them simmer slowly until they form a paste. Add a salt-spoonful of mustard, a tablespoonful of table sauce, a half dozen mushrooms, cut up fine, and salt and pepper to taste. Cook for ten minutes more, putting in a little soup stock if the paste becomes too thick, then strain through a fine sieve and pour over the spaghetti which has previously been placed in a warm (not hot) dish.

Spaghetti thus served is always a most desirable dish and is a healthy one as well.

Here is an easy way to prepare Macaroni that cannot fail to please you. Break up a pint or so of Macaroni and put in a stewpan, and, pouring over it boiling water, cook it about 10 minutes; add a pint of milk and cook about 10 minutes more, when you should add a piece of butter the size of a walnut and cook until the butter is melted. Use good care in dishing up so as not to break the Macaroni. This is known as "Macaroni and cream," but can be easily made "Macaroni and cheese" by placing in a well buttered baking dish, sprinkling over it grated cheese and baking until brown.

The above are all dishes easily prepared and for the summer will please all of your friends. It would be better for the American people if they were well acquainted with these pastes, and you will do the world a favor if you make them more popular.

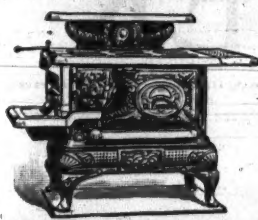

Sincerely yours,
LOUIS ROIE.

VEAL CHEESE.

Prepare equal quantities of boiled, sliced veal and smoked tongue. Pound the slices separately in a mortar, moistening with butter as you proceed. Then pack it in a jar or pan, mixing it in alternate layers; first the tongue, then the veal, so that when it is cut it will look variegated. Press down hard and pour melted butter over the top. Keep in a dry place and well covered. Nice for lunch and for sandwiches.

FRIED SQUASH.

Cut the squash in pieces or in thin slices and sprinkle it with salt. Let it stand a few minutes and then beat up two eggs. Dip the squash into the egg and fry it brown in butter. Do not get the slices too thin for fear that they dry too much and become hard in the frying. The crooked-neck squashes are not preferable for frying.

JELLIED CALF'S HEAD.

This is a very inexpensive dish, but particularly appetizing these hot days. Cover the head, which will be prepared by the butcher, with hot water and boil slowly for an hour; then try, and if the meat does not readily leave the bone cook until it does. Take the meat carefully from the bone, add a teaspoonful each of salt, sweet majoram and summer savory, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, and a scant half teaspoonful of pepper; mix all thoroughly, press into a mould or a cheese cloth bag; put in a cold place and in a few hours it will be ready to cut in thin slices. These thin slices of meat put between thin slices of bread make delicious sandwiches.

HORSE RADISH SAUCE FOR FISH.

Cook three-quarters of a cup of fine bread crumbs, half a cup of fresh horse-radish, grated, and one pint of milk for fifteen minutes in a double boiler; add one large tablespoonful of butter and season with salt and pepper.

ROSE LEAF SUGAR.

Pound together in a mortar two cups of dried rose leaves and one cup of fine granulated sugar; pass through a fine sieve and keep in an air-tight jar until wanted for use.

FOR THE PICNIC.

SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUIT TOMATO SANDWICH.

Six Shredded Wheat Biscuit, four medium sized tomatoes, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-sixteenth teaspoonful white pepper. Peel the tomatoes, slice and cut into small pieces, add salt and pepper, and set in cool place until thoroughly cold. Split the biscuit, dip the inside very quickly in cold water, taking care not to wet the outside at all. Place the halves together and put in pan in moderate oven for five minutes. Then separate the halves of the Biscuit, and with a knife dipped in boiling water lay thin slices of good butter on the inside of the halves. Then put a layer of the tomatoes on the bottom half, using the liquid from the tomatoes. Put the top half on, press lightly together, smooth the sides and ends, and serve. If sugar is preferred, the salt and pepper may be omitted, and one teaspoonful of sugar may be sprinkled over the layer of tomato before adding the top of the biscuit; or one teaspoon of salad dressing may be used.

STUFFED EGGS.

Six hard boiled eggs, one egg, one tablespoon cold water, two Shredded Wheat Biscuit, rolled and sifted, salt and white pepper, three teaspoons Royal Salad Dressing, one teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, 12 small wooden skewers. Cook 45 minutes, cool thoroughly, cut eggs into halves lengthwise, remove yolks, keeping halves of each egg in pairs. Put yolks through ricer or sieve, add salad dressing, table sauce, salt and pepper to taste; mix into smooth paste, fill halves of eggs level, put halves together, fasten through ends with skewers, roll in egg and water, then in crumbs, and fry in deep fat to a golden brown; remove skewers. A delicious and dainty luncheon dish.

SHREDDED WHEAT BROWN BREAD

The recipe for making the granulated wheat shred brown bread, so popular with all who have tried it, is given here by request:

Two cups granulated wheat shred, one cup cornmeal, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup molasses, one and three-quarters cups sweet milk, one-half cup sour milk, one teaspoon soda. Have the water boiling before beginning the bread. Mix the granulated wheat shred, cornmeal and salt, add the molasses in which has been mixed one-half of the teaspoon soda. Then add one and one-quarter cups of milk and last the one-half cup sour milk, to which has been added the remaining one-half teaspoon of soda, stirring till it effervesces. Turn into buttered brown bread moulds, cover tightly and steam three hours.

NEW ENGLAND CROPS.

May Visitation Would Be Welcomed by the Farming Population.

Boston, July 19.—Last week's rains were not very copious, yet they refreshed the earth in Rhode Island, Connecticut and eastern Massachusetts, producing a noticeable effect in the fields. The absence of moisture is felt elsewhere in New England, though the crops have not begun to wilt so as to cause alarm. Frost did considerable damage in the north.

Maine—Observers in the various counties describe different conditions. There is perfect agreement as to hay, of which there is a large crop everywhere. Grain in Androscoggin is rusting badly, while at Washington and Penobscot the condition is most promising at present. Potatoes are good in Washington and Arrostook; in Kennebec, Oxford, Somerset and Waldo, on the other hand, drought and beetles are affecting the plants materially. All crops are growing wonderfully in Knox.

New Hampshire—Belknap potatoes are poor because of the drought, but grain is generally good. Drought is injuring Carroll crops generally. Rain is needed for Cheshire potatoes, corn and pastures, and apples are falling. Showers have improved Merrimack crops, but apples will be short. In Rockingham hood crops need rain; pastures still good; hay now finished. Corn, potatoes and small fruit are suffering in Strafford and Sullivan.

Vermont—From all counties come reports of the desire for rain, the want of which is beginning to be felt, though the crops are in fair condition. Potatoes are rusting badly in some sections of Addison, and corn is below the average. Dry weather is rolling corn and damaging potatoes in Bennington. In Grand Isle apples will be less than half a crop. An unusually large crop of hay has been half secured in Rutland. Windsor will have a large crop of fine quality hay.

Connecticut—Corn is doing finely in Fairfield and Tolland and poorly in New Haven. Apples will not be abundant, while the reverse condition is true as to the "apples of the earth." Small fruits and vegetables will be abundant in Fairfield. In New London a second crop of clover is starting well.

Massachusetts—Franklin and Middlesex report the only indications of a good yield of apples, and in all counties potatoes are thriving and other crops in a state to furnish little ground of complaint save cranberries in Plymouth, where the dry spell has been injurious. Hay is as plentiful as in the adjoining states. Hampden will have a plenty of berries.

Rhode Island—Rain gave new vigor to the crops, which are looking well throughout the state. In Kent oats are light and apples falling.

FACTS ABOUT HEALTH.

It is Easy to Keep Well if We Know How—Some of the Conditions Necessary to Perfect Health.

The importance of maintaining good health is easily understood, and it is really a simple matter if we take a correct view of the conditions required. In perfect health the stomach promptly digests food. The blood is employed to carry nourishment to the organs, nerves, muscles and tissues which need it. The first great essential for good health, therefore, is pure, rich blood. No medicine has such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla and it is because it is the true blood purifier. Hundreds of people are alive and well today who would have been in their graves had they not taken Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is depended upon as a family medicine by thousands.

Size of Sewer Pipes.

The size of the sewer pipes is troubling some of the good citizens of Andover. It is no wonder that to the man who has been accustomed once a year to dig up the four inch drain to his own single sink because it filled up, the twelve inch pipe for Andover's whole centre settlement seems small.

That there might be some reliable information upon this subject we have interviewed Commissioner John E. Smith, whose knowledge gives answer that the Andover system is "not only ample, but generous in its provisions. From Mr. Smith we learn the following very important truths.

1st. The very fact that our grandfather's four inch drain clogged so frequently was because of the small amount of matter flowing through it, and the slight fall so often allowed in laying.

2d. Sewage will flow more freely and with less danger of clogging through an opening with a sharp curve than through one more shallow, which leads engineers to advise just as small pipe as can possibly be used, laid with as generous a fall as can be easily obtained.

3d. In laying out the Andover sewerage system, advantage has been taken of the sharp fall that the lay of the land furnishes, and which is of great assistance in the quick carrying off of the sewage.

4th. The most careful estimating by engineers and commissioners has been going on for nearly two years to make sure that the pipes were right and the final result has been endorsed by the arbiters of all such matters, the state board of health.

From these estimates Commissioner Smith states that the system now under way will carry off 2,500,000 gallons of sewage a day, or more than the entire amount of water furnished for all Andover by our water works system.

To show what a six inch pipe will do under varying grades, it may be stated that the Essex Street six inch sewer will carry away 800,000 gallons of sewage per day, while the Chestnut Street six inch sewer will carry off but 480,000 gallons.

When we take into account that the total amount of water used in all Andover is but 350,000 gallons per day it will be seen how generous the provision has been.

In all wet ground, under-drains are being laid and special pains are being taken to make tight work, so that the leakage will be reduced to a minimum.

Editorial Cinders.

The amount of local building this year is probably less than for several years. While this is disappointing from the builder's and assessor's standpoint, we are inclined to think it is for the real good of the town.

There is a point in town growth in the number of buildings it contains, beyond which it is very disastrous to go, and Andover is very near to that point.

Too many vacant houses and tenements very quickly become a depreciating force in the real estate market and as such, change a good investment into a very poor one. It is just as well that building should go slowly for a year or two but when it does start up again let some enterprising man erect a dozen small single houses to rent for $12 to $15 a month, and he will secure a good investment.

The people who live on the outer edges of Andover will be most grateful to Congressman Knox for his successful effort to give them a mail delivery. They are the ones above all others to benefit by carriers.

One of the good things to be done in connection with the street tear-ups, will be the shifting of the car tracks between the railroad bridge and Stimson's bridge, to the side of the road.

FOR MOUNTED LETTER CARRIER

Postmaster Bliss Secures an Appropriation for that Purpose.

Beginning Sept. 1, our post office will have an annual appropriation which will be expended in furnishing conveyance for the delivery and collection of one of the carriers.

The present route of letter carrier Feeney covers such a large territory that the delivery and collection of the mail is not as efficient as would be desired. It at present includes the district on the west side of the town from T. Dennis Thomson's on Abbot Street to Frye Village, including Abbot and Marland. There is but one delivery a day on part of this route at present, and since the inauguration of the free delivery the route has been necessarily curtailed.

The department has not as yet formulated any definite plan but it is to be expected with the extra appropriation they will be able to cover more territory and to increase the promptness of the collection of the mails.

This new concession to the Andover office was secured chiefly through the efforts of our congressman who is ever alive to the interests of his district. Postmaster Bliss has also shown commendable energy in the matter and his work will be thoroughly appreciated by the townspeople and especially by that portion who will be thus benefited by the new appropriation.

Serious Assault Case.

Wednesday evening in Police Court, Oscar Newcomb of Ballardvale was fined $15 by Judge Poor for disturbing the peace. Newcomb was one of a party of four Ballardvale men who caused a serious disturbance at George Pillsbury's house last Saturday. They bought cider from Pillsbury in the afternoon and returning in the evening demanded more. Newcomb was in a state of intoxication and Pillsbury refused to sell any more. Whereupon the crowd proceeded to take matters into their own hands. They entered the house and smashed things generally knocking out a whole window, sash and all. They also broke furniture and severely assaulted the inmates of the house. An old man named Stone was badly used up and cut on the arm while others were also cut and gashed.

Warrants were issued for their arrest and in answer to the summons Newcomb and one of the Daleys only appeared Wednesday night. Newcomb was charged with disturbing the peace and after evidence had been given he acknowledged that he was so drunk he could remember nothing of what had occurred and was fined $15.

The case against the others was continued on account of their non-appearance with that of Geo. Pillsbury, a witness for the prosecution. They will now have to answer to a charge of contempt of court as well, and they will be arrested at sight.

The Andover Bakery Changes Hands.

The Andover Bakery which has been owned and run by Robert Hodge, has been sold to Thomas E. Rhodes and will change hands about the first of August. Mr. Rhodes intends to continue the bakery at Park Street and while having the main store there he will also keep breadstuffs and supplies at his restaurant on Main Street. He will engage a first class baker and it is his intention to keep only the very best quality of goods in bread, cake and sundries. He will be assisted by his brother Walter who is at present in Philadelphia. Goods will be delivered as formerly by the team. "Tommy" has the best wishes of the community in his new business.

Robert Hodge, the present owner of the bakery has been in Andover for many years and purchased the concern from W. Driscoll. He has built up for himself a good business but it is not congenial to his health and on that account he has decided to give it up. He has purchased a farm in North Andover and will make a specialty of raising hogs. Mr. Hodge came from Boston to Andover. He has already moved part of his effects to his farm.

Florists' and Gardeners' Club.

The Florists' and Gardeners' Club have now made all the arrangements for the September exhibition of cut flowers, wild flowers, potted plants and vegetables. Entry blanks and schedules can be had from the secretary. The members of the club hope that this exhibition will be largely taken advantage of by every one in Andover, no matter how small your exhibit may be. Bring them in and let us fill the Town Hall. Remember this exhibition is for all school children and citizens of Andover (only). The club members will not compete.

The exhibition will be held September 16 and 17. Competitors will oblige by making early application to the secretary, J. D. Fairweather, 17 Abbott Street.

Prizes will be offered according to the schedule published in the TOWNSMAN of May 27.

Bailey-Bailey Reunion.

The sixth annual gathering of the Bailey-Bailey family Association will be held at Willow Dale Grove, Tyngsboro, Mass., on Thursday, August 11. A cordial invitation is extended to all of the names of Bailey (however spelled). Mr. Eben H. Bailey of Boston will preside.

The business meeting will be held at 10.30 A. M. and will be followed by the literary exercises.

Addresses are expected from Wm. W. Bailey, Esq. of Nashua, N. H. and Horace W. Bailey, Esq. of Newbury, Vt. and a recitation by Miss Ella A. Fiske of Clinton, Mass.

A good dinner can be obtained in the dining room of the Pavilion.

The electric leave Lowell every half hour starting from Merrimack Square, at five and thirty-five minutes past the hour. In the afternoon, the electric to and from Lowell run every fifteen minutes.

The special committee of arrangements consists of John A. Bailey of Lowell, Dr. Stephen G. Bailey of Lowell and James R. Bailey of Lawrence. Hollis R. Bailey, Esq. of Boston is secretary of the association.

EFFECTUAL.—Charles J. Booth, Olivebrook, Cal. says: "I have used Ayer's Pills in my family for several years, and have always found them most effectual in the relief of ailments arising from a disordered stomach, torpid liver, and constipated bowels."

NEWS FROM ANDOVER SOLDIERS

While part of the army has been fighting valiantly before Santiago, thousands of troops at Chickamauga are being drilled daily there and are getting worried at the delay of not getting into active service. Many of the men however are enjoying the historic scenery around and the following extract from a letter from Private Raymond Buchan, tells of an interesting trip to Lookout Mountain.

"Yesterday we went to Lookout Mountain. Capt. Forbes was with us so we could stay all day and didn't need any passes. The passes are only issued for six hours, we stayed all day. We went to church at 6.30 A. M., then started off for Lytle, got a train there for Chattanooga and from there by electric to the foot of the mountain. The car that goes up the side of the mountain goes up almost straight at one place, but the scenery is something fine. Well, we landed at the top all right, a distance of about 2,700 feet above Chattanooga, and began a tour of inspection. We first went to Point Lookout and there I saw one of the prettiest sights I ever saw in my life. You can see seven different states from this point. You can see right below Moccasin Bend, made by the winding of the Tennessee River, it looks just like a foot. We had pointed out to us by an old Vet the position of the different armies. On this rock there was D. H. Henderson's, 1863, name cut. Jack Henderson says it was his uncle David. We left here and walked round the mountain awhile and came to Natural Bridge, a large rock that looks just like a bridge, underneath was a spring of ice cold water. There were the Lion's Mouth, Telephone Rock, Bulldog's Head, Camel's Back and the Twin Sisters. After we saw these we went down the incline again and went to Chattanooga. It's a fine city, I think the prettiest city I ever saw. Some of the buildings are made of handsome stone and bricks. We saw the Chattanooga Times building. It is built of the same kind of stone as the Central Building.

We intended to go out to the National Cemetery but we didn't have time. We left Chattanooga at 5 o'clock and got home at six, and we all thought our money well spent. I would like to travel a little while longer at the Government's expense. John and George M. Henderson are now the cooks of Company L and the boys all say they are the best cooks they have had so far. The previous cook only washed his hands when he washed his dishes, so that the boys must have been getting some savoury viands. Private Buchan and Smith are on the ambulance corps.

Another letter just received shows it is not all play: "We are all well and patiently waiting for our next move which rumor says will be Framingham. We break up camp to-morrow morning for a march and will be gone three or four days. We will take everything with us the same as if we were going for good. We had one of these marches before but we only went about five miles. Each company got a new mule wagon last week. The regiment has been recruited up to 100 men to each company now and has been all equipped so we are ready to move any time.

Major Cogswell examined our Company this morning to see if our vaccination took, but the vaccine must have been poor for only a few had taken. They say there are one hundred cases of typhoid fever at the division hospital and about 1000 cases in the Park. I don't know of any in our company. All of the Andover boys are enjoying good health."

The following letter from Joseph A. Brochu who is at Santiago with Co. F. 9th Mass., will be of interest just now.

"We were in a hard fight July 4th and had a narrow escape as bullets were flying all around us, over our heads and in all directions. We beat the Spaniards and the Americans had three men slightly wounded in the fight. None of the Lawrence boys were hurt at that battle. The Spaniards say the loss on their side is about one thousand killed and many more wounded, and the Americans captured over one thousand Spanish prisoners, have blown up nearly all the Spanish war ships and are not likely to do any more bombarding. The first night we landed in Cuba we were ordered to march to the front (that was seventeen miles walk from where we had the big battle) and we started two hours after. We got off the boat at ten o'clock at night and got on the battle field at four o'clock in the morning, and fought all that day and night. The Spaniards tried hard to break through our lines but we kept them back all that night with a heavy loss on their side.

We have not been fighting for three or four days since then for the Spaniards raised the flag of truce and could not fight till they took it down again. I think it will not last very long, for the Spaniards are talking peace already. We are liable to have a very heavy battle soon if the Spaniards don't make some other arrangements."

Mr. Brochu's letter was ten days coming to Andover. It will be remembered that he was married to Miss Esther Williamson of West Parish, last November. He was a member of Co. F. 9th Regt. for three years. His three years were up the day he was sent to the front. He is the only one from Andover who is at the front.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic-Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt myself against the attack, I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover, C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

SEWER ONE-SEVENTH FINISHED

The good weather of the past week has enabled the contractors to push the work on the sewer vigorously, and as a result nearly one mile of pipe has been laid, all of which is in or near the centre of town.

This week much of the street which has been torn up since the first of the month has been cleaned up, more especially Essex Street and the business portion of Main Street. The pipe on Essex Street has all been laid with the exception of a portion of the intercepting sewer at the end near the depot. In the Essex Street trench a great deal of blasting had to be done and this somewhat retarded the work.

The sewer on Main Street has been completed from the square to Chestnut Street. Four manholes have been built in that section. From Chestnut Street pipe is being laid rapidly and Main Street is torn up to a point near Morton Street. Very little blasting will need to be done on this part.

Work has been continued on Park Street and here some difficulty is being experienced with water in the trenches. The greatest depth of any of the trenches in town will be attained on Park Street in front of the Engine House. Fifteen feet will be the depth and this is made necessary on account of the low lying and swampy land beyond on Chestnut Street. Yesterday the trench had been dug partially as far as Bartlett Street but the heavy rain interfered with further work and filled the trench with nearly a foot of water. There was also a bad cave in in this trench yesterday owing to the heavy storm. A force pump is being kept continually at work to keep the trench clear of water.

A gang of men began on School Street near Central yesterday morning and another on East Chestnut near Main. No other new work has been started. It was expected to have begun work on the lower end of High Street but this has been deferred for the present. Five carloads of iron pipe to be used in the work have arrived this week. At the blow-off bed in Frye Village work is progressing very satisfactorily and a portion has been finished so that an idea can be gained as to how it will look when all completed.

The pumping station will be built on the land on the east side of Main Street in Marland Village, near Stimson's bridge. The batters were put up this week.

Work on the sewer was begun three weeks ago and as one seventh is completed and that about the average degree of difficulty, the engineers expect that it will be completed before the contract time.

ANDOVER'S SUMMER SCHOOL

The long summer vacation of the children of the public schools is apt to tend toward idleness and in cases mischievousness and in order to in part effect this tendency the Summer School was inaugurated Monday morning with a very gratifying attendance.

Last year Superintendent of schools, G. E. Johnson began the summer school idea with the Sloyd work in the Guild Building, and the success of the venture led him to continue it this year on a more extended scale. Beside the Sloyd work a play school has been started in the Stowe School and the interest already shown by the attendance is proof that such a thing was needed during the summer months.

At the Guild House the Sloyd work is under the direction of Jefferson K. Cole of Peabody. Here between 20 and 30 boys receive instructions every morning between eight and nine o'clock. Lessons in woodwork are given twice a week to each scholar by Clarence E. Moore. The fee is 10 cents a lesson and the session will extend over six weeks.

At the Stowe School every morning the play-school is in full swing and 20 boys are in attendance. Lessons are given in gardening, printing and music. Out-door games are indulged in and the children are made to feel that it is a play school. The printing classes are in charge of John C. Angus and the boys do the printing used in connection with their classes. Miss Read is teacher of music. The fee is ten cents per week.

The interest in the play school is so great that there are many names on the waiting list and as a boy drops out of the school or is dismissed for misbehavior, one from the waiting list is taken.

The whole school is under the superintendence of Mr. Johnson and the town is fortunate in having one for its superintendence of public schools who is so interested in the welfare of the school children that he chooses to spend his vacation in so profitable a way to the children.

Obituary.

MRS. BRIDGET (DEVLIN) HANNON.

Mrs. Hannon died suddenly at the home of her son, P. J. Hannon on Florence Street, Wednesday noon. About a week ago she had an attack of pleurisy which developed into pneumonia Tuesday, and terminated fatally.

Deceased was born in Ireland but came to this country nearly 50 years ago. She married Patrick Hannon and resided in Andover for many years. She is survived by four sons and four daughters, P. J. our well known tailor, John E. D. P. and Michael A., all of Boston, Miss Theresa B., Mrs. Sarah J. Tische, Meriden, Ct., Mrs. Mary A. Nolan, Salem, and Mrs. Katherine O'Connell of town.

Mrs. Hannon was of a quiet retiring disposition and was loved by her family as well as respected by her neighbors. She was 70 years of age.

Funeral services were held at St. Augustine's Church this morning at 9:30, solemn requiem mass being said. Interment took place in the Catholic cemetery.

DENNIS SWEENEY

Dennis Sweeney died suddenly at his home over the hill, Wednesday. He had been enjoying his usual health and was having Monday, but broke a blood vessel in his brain, which caused paralysis and death.

Deceased was born in Ireland but has resided in Andover for many years. He was over 70 years of age. He is survived by one son, Daniel, and one daughter, Mrs. James O. Bradshaw, both of town.

Funeral services were held this morning and interment took place in the Catholic Cemetery.

To Say Popular Hardly Expresses It.

A wonderfully popular outdoor gathering is the Ocean Park Assembly which is held each year at that delightful resort, Old Orchard. Much time and great pains was taken in perfecting the arrangements for this series of meetings, and with the galaxy of prominent personages intending to participate, one can not but wonder at the wide spread popularity they have attained. There are meetings of all kinds for young and old, and included are Chautauqua Circles, Musical gatherings, and in fact every branch is thoroughly covered.

Then for those desiring relaxation from the routine of work there are the diversions of the beach, and those are many and varied. The bathing beach is as fine as any in the country; for boating or fishing the advantages are too widely known to need mention. Another source through which recreation may be had is in the new Pier which has just been erected at a great cost. It extends out into the bay to a length of nearly two thousand feet, and at the end is a casino and restaurant. There is in fact no end to methods by which one may enjoy himself at Old Orchard.

You can visit this famous resort under the most favorable circumstances during the period from July 2nd to August 31st, when the Boston & Maine Railroad will offer especially reduced rates to Old Orchard from nearly every station on its line. Ask your ticket agent about the rates.

Andover Press Changes.

By a reorganization of the forces at the printery of the Andover Press, George A. Christie has been made assistant to Mr. Cole the manager, and he will have direct oversight of all printed matter.

George W. MacDonald, a skilled workman at a leading printery in Haverhill, has been secured as foreman of the composing room and has entered upon his duties. In addition to many of the old hands so long employed, J. W. Whittemore of Lawrence has been given a permanent place as one of the Andover Press.

By these changes and through a continuance of the company's policy to add every important up-to-date improvement to the equipment of the business, patrons of the Andover printery are assured that the high standard of its work will continue to be improved.

Hedding Camp Meetings To Be Successful.

Few resorts have so many advantages for a summer sauntering place as the region about Hedding, and this perhaps is one of the reasons why the Hedding Camp Meetings are so popular.

Arrangements have been completed for a series of meetings to last from July 23d to August 27th, and during that period the Boston & Maine Railroad will place on sale reduced rate round trip tickets at any of its stations. There will hardly be a day but what meetings will be held and addresses, lectures and talks will be given by learned Methodist leaders; besides there will be Chautauqua Meetings and Summer schools at which much of value will follow. Of course there will be much time devoted to meriment, and every facility will be at hand for properly carrying out the elaborate program which the management has arranged.

The grove in which these meetings are held is healthfully situated, and the conveniences for a good time are all that can be expected, and by all means you should make it your way to be at Hedding at some time during the coming series of meetings.

Quick Profit for Investors.

An investment that will show a quick profit is what everyone is looking for.

Attention is called to the Preferred Stock of the Joseph Ladue Gold Mining and Development Company of Yukon, the price of which at present is $10.00 per share. On August 31, this price is to be advanced to $12.50 per share, and all who hold stock at $10.00 will be entitled to this advance, in addition to a dividend which is to be declared in September.

This Preferred Stock is the same thing as a mortgage bond on all the property of the Company, and has the advantage of getting the same dividend that the Common Stock gets. The Company is one of the few that are in good financial condition.

Those who wish to learn more about this Company, and who would like a map of the Town-site of Dawson City, should write at once to Chas. A. Sawyer, 230 Washington Street, Boston.

Miss Nellie E. Horan died last Monday at 12:15 A. M. at her home on Oak Street, of appendicitis at the age of 38 years. The deceased was born in Andover, and came to the Vale when she was about two years old and has since resided here. Her very sudden death came as a terribly severe shock to her relatives and friends, as she was at her work as usual Saturday forenoon when she was obliged to return to her home and the end came almost before her sorrowing family and friends could realize it. Miss Horan's genial manner and happy faculty of bringing joy and sunshine wherever she went made her a universal favorite. She was a weaver in the Ballardvale Mills where she had been employed for a number of years. Besides her mother she leaves two brothers to mourn her loss. The funeral took place at St. Joseph's Church, Wednesday forenoon at 9 o'clock, and was conducted by the Rev. Father Lynch. Miss Sarah Tanner of Lawrence sang "Jerusalem my Happy Home," and "Nearer my God to Thee" in a very touching and inspiring manner. Among the floral offerings, which were very beautiful, was a "Gates Ajar" from the employees of the Ballardvale Mills; 33 pink roses from Miss Ellen Claff; bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paff; bouquet, Mrs. Metcalf; basket of flowers, Miss Mamie Conway and Miss McGovern; bouquet, Mrs. Joseph Tachauder; bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. David O'Connell. Interment in Catholic Cemetery, Andover.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our gratitude and appreciation to our many neighbors and friends for their kind words of sympathy and the numerous tokens of love received during our recent time of bereavement and affliction.

Signed,

MRS. MARY HORAN.

More than Doubled.

On the opening day of their "Consumers' Picnic" sale at Bicknell Bros. business was more than double compared with the corresponding day one year ago. This is exclusive evidence that the people are convinced that this is a picnic of unusual merit and highly entertaining. Continuous dancing was indulged in during the entire day around the several barge booths, and it is an actual fact that so eager were the people that customers were left in the store when the doors were locked at six o'clock and the firm was obliged to unlock the doors to let in the disappointed ones who came just in time to be locked out. Don't ever forget that cream always rises at the top and that humanity is not guilty of thrusting its fist down through the cream after skimmed milk. Thus it comes to pass that early picnickers get the cream, which is extremely desirable in strawberry season.

STEVENS' POND

The body of Charles Simpson, whose disappearance from home Monday evening, as reported, was found in Stevens pond Wednesday noon. It is believed to have been a case of suicide.

He is said to have been despondent.

He left his home, 73 Holly street, about 8:30 Monday evening, saying that he would return soon. He was not heard from again that night and yesterday the police were notified.

He was employed in the Arlington dye works. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and five children. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Colby.

To His Death.

John McNulty, a bricklayer, employed by Peabody & Pike, fell from the third floor of Kunhardt's mill Monday afternoon and was almost instantly killed. He had completed his day's work and was preparing to go home, when the accident occurred. A space of a few feet intervened between two buildings of the plant, on one of which the masons are at work. Mr. McNulty attempted to step from one building to the staging attached to the other. He missed his footing and fell to the ground, a distance of about 20 ft. He was bleeding profusely. Dr. Chamberlain was summoned and also the police wagon. When the latter arrived, the victim was pronounced dead.

Central Labor Union Meets.

A meeting of the Central Labor union was held in Carpenters hall Tuesday night. President Byrne occupied the chair. President Byrne and James Noonan were elected delegates to the state convention of the Federation of Labor, to be held at Springfield, Monday, August 1. Representative Cullinan and Edward McCartin were chosen alternates.

The matter of parading on Labor day is yet in abeyance. A communication is to be sent to the various unions to ascertain the opinions of the members relative to the advisability of holding the parade.

N't Wounded.

A letter received from Corporal Thomas F. Cunningham of Company F, by his father, conveys the information that, after all, he is not among the wounded. He suffered an attack of malar fever, caused by eating the mango fruit and drinking water. In his letter, which was written in Fort McPherson hospital, Ga., he writes that he was unconscious six hours in the field hospital. He was one of three in the ambulance corps who lost their clothing and found when the Spaniards fired upon the hospital tent, and had nothing to eat for 36 hours. They afterwards found the mango trees. He ate heartily of the fruit and fever developed.

Leg and Arm Broken.

Robert Connors, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Connors of 185 Park street, was run over by a wagon loaded with potatoes Thursday, and his right arm and right leg were broken. The driver of the wagon thinks that the child, who is about six years old, climbed upon the wagon wheel, while the horse was drinking at a watering trough on Broadway. The driver started the horse and the lad fell beneath the wheel.

The injured boy was taken to the general hospital.

The Connors family, a short time ago, lost their 11-year-old daughter, Agnes, who was burned.

LAWRENCE REGULARS GO SOUTH

Privates Joseph Woodburn, Samuel Buckley, John Hendry, Samuel Gamble and Fred Widdop, Lawrence boys who joined the regulars recently, being in battery F, second regiment, United States artillery, left Fort Adams, R. I., Wednesday afternoon to go to Tampa, Fla., from whence they will go to Santiago.

MUSTERED INTO SERVICE.

LYNN, July 21.—Inspector Gen. Carter last night mustered in the provisional military company at the armory. Fifty-four men took the oath, and they will undergo the physical examination the 31st. Gen. Carter expressed himself as pleased with the company. It is composed of many members of the militia, and was mustered in on petition of Sergt. W. W. Cann.

ORDERED TO NEW YORK.

SALEM, July 21.—Lieutenants Packard of Company K, and Fullerton of Company A, First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, received orders yesterday from the Department of the East, to report for duty at Fort Columbia, New York harbor. Their duty will probably be of a clerical nature, and their absence from the regiment will probably not be for more than a few weeks.

Spindles to Be Stopped.

Fall River, July 20.—It is stated that the agents of 30 corporations have agreed to close for four weeks in August or thereabouts. Many of the millmen signed the agreement, while others contented themselves by making a verbal one. The movement will affect about half the spindles of the city or 1,500,000, and leave in idleness about half of the total of 25,000 employees of Fall River.

It is now known that a plan to curtail was attempted six weeks ago, but failed. Rhode Island agents will be asked to join the plan. The agitation in favor of pooling the local surplus product has died, and the consensus of opinion seems to be that the plan is impracticable.

There were 25 lodgers on the upper floors, but Patrick Hennigan, 34 years old, is the only one missing. It is thought that he was buried in the ruins. Mary Quinn, employed in a coffee house on the street floor, had her skull fractured. Others were hurt slightly.

Assignment of a Shoe Company.

Brockton, July 21.—Harry C. Crawford of the Crawford Shoe company has signed an agreement for an assignment of all the company's affairs to William F. Mullen of Boston. The Crawford recently purchased George I. Bouve's interest in the Bouve-Crawford Shoe company, dropping the first name of the old firm at the same time. The company has four stores in Boston, three in New York, two in Brooklyn and one each in New Haven, Philadelphia, Providence and Baltimore. The assignment covers the factory in this city, as well as all the machinery and goods.

Chased to Death.

Philadelphia, July 20.—A man supposed to be Peter Brown of Greenboro, N. C., was instantly killed, and Charles H. Craig of Attleboro, Mass., was seriously injured by being struck by a locomotive on the Pennsylvania railroad in West Philadelphia. The men were beating their way from Baltimore to New York. They alighted from a freight train and were about to board another, when they were chased by a policeman, and in their flight were struck by a locomotive.

High Price For Cotton.

New York, July 21.—The first bale of cotton of the crop of 1898, which was presented to President McKinley by the citizens of New Orleans to be sold for the benefit of the United States hospital fund, was sold yesterday in front of the Cotton Exchange. The first bid was $200, rising by 50 bids to $500, at which price the bale was sold to the exchange. It will be redonated to the hospital fund. The price secured for the bale is the highest since the civil war, when cotton was $2 a pound.

Storm In Granite State.

Greenville, N. H., July 20.—One of the worst storms that ever raged here swept over this section yesterday morning. Telegraph poles and trees were felled to the ground; a lightning bolt struck the residence of Mrs. S. Wilson Mansfield, tearing off the doors, clapboards and plastering, and a barn owned by a man named Wilson, which contained a large supply of hay and a quantity of farming tools, was burned to the ground.

Dig down to the cause of your sickness, if you want to get well and stay well. Most likely it's indigestion. The irritating poisons of fermenting, putrid food, left in the stomach by indigestion causes headache, neuralgia, nervousness, dizziness, stomach ache, nausea, irritability, and all the other well-known symptoms of indigestion.

They also cause many pains and disorders which are often laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poisons are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this like Shaker Digestive Cordial, because it prevents the undigested food from fermenting in the stomach and helps the stomach to digest its food.

Sold by druggist, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

PIANOS

Few people have the courage to buy a cheap piano after carefully examining a really fine one. A pretty casing is often designed to sell a poor musical instrument. These well-known names combine beauty outside and worth within. Among the first-class ones these three are the most popular—not low priced and inferior, but cheap for their superior quality. These pianos can be purchased from $300 to $400, according to size and case—quality just the same. We will rent you one of these famous instruments for three months delivered right in your home for $15. Medium grade pianos for $12. Cheap pianos for $10. If you decide the piano is all we claim for it and decide to purchase, the rent will be allowed as payment on your instrument.

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death.

My son had a most malignant Cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jaw bone and scrape it. Before a great while the Cancer returned, and he finally upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and within the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the Cancer disappeared entirely, and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now seventeen years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return.

Mr. John McDuffie was in town again today completing arrangements for the big bunch of professional cyclists he will bring to this city next Saturday. He will have at least twenty riders in his party, which will arrive Friday morning. The men are to be quartered at the Hotel Thorndike and will be entertained by the various clubs during the evening. The big machines including the O'Brien 10-seater will be pushed about the streets Friday night and again Saturday noon to advertise the event. The press of Lowell, Lawrence and other cities are booming the meet as the greatest of the season, and big delegations are expected from each of them. In Lowell the bicycle stores will close in the afternoon and the whole outfit will come down to cheer for "Pugger" and "Burr" Martin, their townsmen. IN HUB MARKETS.

Butter Situation Influenced Favorably by Two Causes.

Strictly Fine Creamery Higher Than a Week Ago—Buyers Still Disinclined to Pay Asked Figures—Eggs in Light Receipt—How Flour Prices Stand.

Boston, July 20.—The butter market has gained more strength under the influence of the falling off in the make and the comparatively light supplies coming forward, and strictly fine creamery is quoted half a dollar a hundred higher than a week ago. Buyers are not responding freely to the advance, but the indications are that it will be established, as the butter is costing that much more laid down here.

So far as our trade is concerned, the same unsatisfactory conditions exist that have been prevalent for several weeks past. In but few cases can round lots be sold at any advance on cost, and the result is that owners are carrying stock in hopes of a better market later. Buyers who have been waiting for lower rates in order to stock up are disappointed, and are endeavoring to cover themselves the best way they can, but they are not operating with any spirit. They were willing to pay last week's current rate, that is 17 cents for strictly fine lots, but when 17 1/2 cents were asked they demurred and run around a good deal before making up their minds. For most of the western extra offered in straight lots 17 cents was all that could be obtained, but these contained more or less defective tubs which were included in the sale. Most of the sales reported were on the basis of 17 1/2 cents, and for some of the lots offered buyers would not pay over 17 cents. Perhaps a range of 17 to 17 1/2 cents should be given, with 18 cents for fancy lots.

There was a fair jobbing trade, and a little higher range of prices had to be asked, in keeping with the rising tendency of the wholesale market. Some dealers quoted 18 to 19 1/2 cents, and others 18 1/2 to 20 cents, including tubs and boxes, but all agreed that strictly fine butter could not be bought as low as a week ago.

The receipts for the week were 32,114 tubs and 24,965 boxes, a total weight of 1,501,184 pounds, against 1,060,205 pounds the previous week and 1,828,459 pounds the corresponding week last year.

The statement of the Quincy Market Cold Storage company for the week is as follows: Put in, 16,211 tubs; taken out, 1685 tubs; stock, 145,943 tubs, against 158,151 tubs same time last year, a decrease of 12,208 tubs. The Eastern Cold Storage company reports 12,000 tubs.

CHEESE, EGGS AND BEANS.

Sales of cheese continue to run along at 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 cents in lots as wanted. Round lots are still hard to place at 7 1/2 cents, but on the basis of sales in the country best northern should command 8 cents.

Eggs continued in light receipt and fresh western sold at 14 cents, with a few special marks at 14 1/2 cents. Fresh eastern sold at 14 to 15 cents, and fancy new laid at a higher range. The stock in the Quincy Market company on Saturday was 132,975 cases, against 113,921 cases same time last year. During the week the stock was reduced 6600 cases, and these went into consumption.

Receipts of beans have fallen off, and under the influence of bad crop reports prices are higher, holders of choice marrow pea not offering under $1.25 to $1.30 per bushel. Yellow eyes and red kidneys remain quiet and steady.

Potatoes have been meeting with quick sale at $2.75 to $3 per barrel, in large lots. The country demand is good, and this may hold out for a week or two longer, or until the home supply increases.

THE CEREALS.

Flour is steady, with a moderate sale at yesterday's prices. The chamber of commerce committee quotes prices as follows: Spring wheat patents at $4.75 to $5.50; spring wheat straight at $4.25 to $4.65; spring wheat clears at $3.75 to $4.25; winter wheat patents at $4.35 to $5.15; winter wheat straight at $3.15 to $4.75; and winter wheat clears at $3.80 to $4.60 per bbl, as to quality.

Corn meal is firm at 80 to 82c per bag and $1.80 to $1.85 per bbl. Oatmeal steady at $4.10 to $4.25 for cut and $3.70 to $3.85 for rolled and ground. Granulated and bolted meal at $2.25 to $2.35. Rye flour at $3.85 per bbl. Graham flour at $3.50 to 5, as to quality.

Corn on the track is quoted at 41 1/2c for No. 2 yellow and 41c for steamer yellow. Oats are in steady demand and prices are unchanged. We quote fancy clipped on the track at 35 to 36c; No. 2 and No. 3 clipped at 32 to 33c; rejected white at 31c, and no grade at 30c per bush.

Oats to arrive are firm at 32 1/2 to 33 1/2c for 36 to 38 lbs and at 32 1/2 to 33 1/2c for 38 to 40 lbs.

Brans is quoted at $1.50 to $1.75 for spring and $1.25 to $1.40 for winter. Middlings range from $1.50 for spring up to $1.75 for winter. Mixed feed at $1.25 to $1.50. Red dog flour at $1.80 to $1.75. Cottonseed meal at $2.25 per ton, to arrive, and linseed meal at $2.

Choice and good hay in fair demand at $15 to $17 per ton. Common grades are dull at $10 to $13. Straw, $9 to $9.50.

LIVESTOCK MARKET.

The pork and pork provision markets, though quiet, are looking rather better, some cuts bringing better prices. Lard is also quoted to be looking firmer. Quotations for this market are very steady at: Barrel pork, $13 to $13.50; light backs, $12; lean ends, $14.50; fresh ribs, 8c; corned and fresh shoulders, 7c; smoked shoulders, 7 1/2c; hams, 8 1/2c; skinned B hams, 9c; bacon, 9 1/2c; sausages, 7c; Frankfort sausages, 8c; pressed ham, 10c; lard, 6 1/2c; in pails, 7 1/2c; pure leaf lard, 7 1/2c; in pails, 8 1/2c; pork tongue, $18; loose salt pork, 7c; brisquets, 7 1/2c; sausage meat, 6 1/2c; bologna, 7c; city dressed hogs, 6 1/2c; country, 5 1/2c.

Poultry has been firmer on a lighter supply of local and not much fresh killed coming in: Iced fowls, 10 to 10 1/2c; chickens, 12 to 15c; refrigerator turkeys, 13c; green ducks, 10 to 11c; live fowls, 9 to 10c; live chickens, 12 to 13c.

Tallow oil is rather easy. Bulk tallow, 3 1/2 to 3 3/4c; tallow oil, 42 to 44c. New York, July 19.—Tallow steady: City, 3 1/2c; country, 3 3/4 to 3 1/2c.

D. Hinman was returning home. Two of the teams were abreast and the third close behind. Hearing the noise and observing the rapid rate at which the teams were coming, Mr. Hinman drew in close to the sidewalk but was unable to avoid a collision. The wheels of the nearest buggy ran over those of the Hinman carriage and broke the cross bar of the shafts. The team on the farther side went safely on but the occupants of the team concerned in the collision were spilled out and the buggy itself was wrecked. The third team coming at a furious pace behind, just barely avoided plunging upon the others in a general mix-up. Happily none of the persons were seriously injured.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

A group of farm buildings which yesterday were the pride of the owner and of agriculturists generally, this morning are a shapeless ruin, and the location of a series of model buildings is marked only by a few charred timbers. During the flight of the shower about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the main barn at Cochichewick farm, the summer home of J. D. W. French of Boston, was struck by lightning. The fluid entered the roof at a point near the cupola and shivered the beams for a space 5 by 5 feet, as near as could be ascertained, and passed to each end of the barn, then to the floor. Four farm hands, Patrick Murphy, John and Daniel Daley, and D. J. Murphy were in the loft stowing away hay, and immediately following the crash they saw the hay in the east end of the barn burning. They called to the men below that the loft was ablaze and set about beating out the fire. Thinking they had succeeded, they turned about and saw the west end of the mow was like a furnace, roaring with flame. They descended to the floor hurriedly. Foreman Stevens was on the barn floor just about attaching the large hay fork to the load when he heard a report as of a pistol; he heard the men cry fire, and by a rope sent several pails of water to the loft, but within three minutes seemingly the interior of the building was seething with flame. Wm. Madden, and Joshua Bateson and Wm. Quillet, two carpenters, were also on the floor at the time, and two boys, it is said, were in the cupola. All had a narrow escape. About half of the carpenter's tools were lost. The men, seeing that to save the building was impossible, turned their attention to the valuable stock and equipages. Several horses, cows, a bull, calves and swine were released from the very teeth of the flames and all escaped except eight young swine, and these it was impossible to reach. All the lighter vehicles were saved, but the hay racks were destroyed. The valuable harnesses just inside the main entrance could not be reached so rapid was the progress of the flames. Almost simultaneously with the outbreak of fire in the first barn, the new barn a little to the rear was also enveloped with flames and was quickly devoured. This building was only completed Friday and was a model modern structure, the finest stock barn in the state, Mr. French having made special effort to make it so, after several trips to other towns to note what improvements to employ in its construction. With the two barns, the first 45x100 ft. and the other 40x100 ft., a sheep barn, tool house, milk barn, carriage sheds, successively destroyed. In about half an hour the buildings were practically consumed. The floor of the new barn was granite, the cost of the building exceeded $3000. The main barn was worth $3000, and the other buildings valued at $2000. Some 150 to 200 tons of hay and tools and other materials to the value of $4000 were also destroyed. All the property was insured, in the Merrimack of Andover, London, Liverpool or Globe companies.

Thomas P. Wentworth saw what appeared to be a solid column of flame shoot through the roof of the main barn near the cupola, as he sat in the door of the Eben Sutton camp opposite the Greenwood ice houses. He rowed ashore and crossed the fields to the fire, and when he arrived, within five minutes, both barns were wrapped in flames. He climbed to the ell of the house and by means of buckets and the aid of John Meserve, men from Mr. Poor's, River View farm, Russell's, Lake View farm, Greenwood's, and other nearby places, the farmhouse, which was only a few feet away, was saved, although the paint was badly blistered and the clapboards were charred. Ed. Coulson rode horseback to the parish and gave the alarm, and the general alarm was given by Mrs. William Fernald by ringing the Congregational Church bell.

The full department responded, and J. C. Poor had an extra pair of horses ready for the engine when it reached Ellis hill. A stand was taken near Greenwood's ice houses, where an unlimited supply of water could be obtained from the lake. It required about 5000 feet of hose to reach the fire, and the stream was not very effective. The buildings in any event were beyond protection when water was obtained, so the firemen confined their attention to saving a nearby stable which was in danger from sparks and heat. Cochichewick "hand-tub" made slowly run from the Centre.

W. O. Howard, a little hand, had one hand severely cut while breaking a window in the ell of the house. The wound was treated by local physicians. The Eben Sutton engine backed up about 8:30 o'clock and at that time up of the company were left to watch the ruins. The Cochichewick firemen did good service in furnishing a supply of water. Had the fire broken out at night it is doubtful if any buildings had escaped destruction. Mr. French was in Boston during the fire. To a reporter this morning he said he had not decided yet whether he would rebuild. The fire was the most destructive that has visited the town for years.

A TITIAN IN MEXICO.

Here is a story about a picture which hangs in the ruined church of Tzintzuntzan, Mexico, and which the Mexican Herald asserts is a genuine Titian, which, though the average traveler knows nothing about, has been visited by artists from all parts of the globe, who have made the journey to Mexico solely for the purpose of seeing this canvas, and they have all declared that the picture was well worth the trip.

The famous picture hangs in one of the old ruined churches. The padre himself will point out the way and stay with you while you are there. The entrance to the auditorium of the church is through a long, dark corridor that leads up to a great door, barred and chained and padlocked, that seemed to carry you back to the old feudal days and make one think that the doors of some old castle were being opened to him.

The door opens into an inner room as dark as night, the padre unfastens a grated window and a flood of golden sunlight comes from over the western hills beyond the lake and falls full upon the picture—such coloring, such composition, such feeling as could only come from the hand of a master. Tradition says it was painted by Titian and presented to Philip of Spain. Eminent men, authors and painters agree with this version. An effort has been made to buy the painting, and $50,000 was offered by the bishop of Mexico, but the faithful, devoted Indians refused.

The picture is an entombment, 16 feet long by 7 feet high. Surrounding the dead Christ, wrapped in a winding sheet, stands the Virgin, Magdalene, St. John and nine other figures, all life size. The picture's state of preservation is marvelous. More than 800 years have elapsed since the great master touched it, and yet one is deluded into the belief that it was painted but yesterday, so fresh, pure and rich is its color.—Exchange.

A Queer Fad.

The Philadelphia Record tells of a rich man of that city who has a queer fad. He neither gives nor accepts any money that has ever previously been used as legal tender. Whether he fears contamination in the exchange or only likes to handle the bright new coins and bills for the pleasure of it is not divulged. But, whatever the reason, the rule is absolute. He carries with him a stock of undimmed coins of every denomination up to half dollars, beyond that crisp bills to the amount he considers necessary. That which he buys he pays for with the exact change, and should be by chance he caught without means of such precision the seller is entitled to the full amount given him in excess of his bill. It is a sensitive measure no doubt and very interesting; but to cleave to it strictly one must needs have obliging bankers or a lion on the mint.

"Uncle Sam" Tarwater.

"Uncle Sam" Tarwater, who has reached the ninety-second year of his age, was in Orrick Saturday afternoon getting his pension papers made out. He is the only state pensioner left and receives $100 yearly for wounds received in the Mormon war of 1838 and 1839. He was in the battle of Crooked River, fought in the autumn of 1838, ten miles east of Lathrop, Clinton county. In this fight David Patton, commander of the Mormons from Far West, a settlement 16 miles northwest of Lathrop, was killed. He was called Captain Farnsworth, and his men were armed with corn knives, which they used as sabers, and during the fight "Uncle Sam" was almost hacked to pieces and left on the field for dead. He still enjoys good health and delights to tell how he fought the Mormons.—Orrick Times.

Letter from Sergeant McNiff.

A letter from Sergeant William McNiff of Company L, to a friend in town, written at Chickamauga Park, Saturday, speaks of the camping place as an excellent one, but dwells upon the discontent of the boys of the Eighth on account of inactivity. He speaks of the regiment as one of the best drilled and most thoroughly equipped of any on the field, and expresses it to be the hope of his companions that they will be sent to Porto Rico, in which case the regiment will be assigned to outpost and advance guard duty. Monday, he states, was set apart for a forced march of several miles. Tents were pitched and the regiment drilled in picket duty, day and night. The health of the soldiers of the regiment is good, generally speaking, he writes, although personally he is convalescing from a severe attack of pneumonia and has not yet reported for duty. He sends kind regards to all the "boys" at home.

FIRST ON THE KLONDIKE

THE JOSEPH LADUE

GOLD MINING AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY OF YUKON.

PRICE OF SHARES TO BE ADVANCED AUGUST 31, 1898.

Mr. Joseph Ladue, the pioneer of the Klondike, and founder of Dawson City, aided by some of the most conservative and successful financiers of New York, is operating the strongest company yet formed for mining and trading in the Yukon gold fields.

To this Company he has transferred placer claims on Hunter and Gold Bottom Creeks, the "Marguerite" Quartz Mine, his Saw Mill, his Timber Lease, that virtually monopolizes the saw timber on the Klondike, and large holdings of Choice Town Lots in Dawson City. The Company also owns the S. S. "Morgan City" now earning $20,000 per month, and has shipped up the Yukon several hundred tons of merchandise, for trade, upon which a very large profit is assured. The U. S. Government reports certify that the saw mill produces about two million feet of lumber in the open season, sales price of which is from $140 to $240 per 1,000 feet according to class.

CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY.

Preferred Stock, 6% cumulative,	$1,000,000
Common Stock,	4,000,000
Total Capital, par value, $10 per share,	$5,000,000

The preferred stock has a first lien on earnings for its dividend, and on the assets of the Company for its par value, and after all the stock of the Company has received 6 per cent, the surplus earnings are shared pro rata by the preferred and common stock.

Thus the preferred stock practically offers the safeguards and advantages of a first mortgage bond, coupled with an earning capacity as great as that of the common stock.

The undersigned has obtained a short option on a block of this preferred stock which he now offers at par, $10.00 per share. This option terminates August 31st, 1898, after which the price of the preferred stock will be advanced by the Company to $12.50 per share.

This is the last opportunity to get the preferred stock at par, and in time to participate in the autumn dividend. Shares will be allotted in the order subscriptions are received.

FLYING AND CRAWLING THINGS

Now that hot weather is at hand we are going to call your attention to the fact that flies, bugs and mosquitoes will make their appearance in force.

Flies are persistent creatures. No matter how many screens you have up they will get in. Better buy our poison or sticky fly paper. We have both kinds—put up in convenient forms. One sheet of poison or two of sticky for 5c.

Now for bugs. Noxwood's Insect Liquid is death to bugs, roaches, mosquitoes, buffalo bugs, and all other such pests. Will not injure the most delicate fabrics. One bottle 25c.

Did you ever sit in a hammock? What a foolish question to ask, of course you have, but you'll never know what pure comfort is until you try one of our $3.25 hammocks.

To be sure we have cheaper ones all the way from $1 up.
